A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on December 5, 2007 has been entered.

Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for L-19 constructs, does not reasonably provide enablement for any substance to trigger enhanced cell death and necrosis. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims.

A conclusion of lack of enablement means, that, based on the evidence regarding each of the factors below, the specification, at the time the application was filed, would not have taught one skilled in the art how to make and/or use the full scope of the claimed invention without undue experimentation.

(A) The breadth of the claims.

The claim encompasses any substance of any structural formula to be used to trigger enhanced cell death and necrosis.

(B) The level of predictability in the art.

A person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention was made would not have been able to predict which specific substance will have the desired activity.

(C) The amount of direction provided by the inventor.

On pages 36-37 of the specification it is stated that substances can be mentioned that are used for the so-called "vascular" targeting" which result in destruction especially of tumor endothelium, which subsequently results in an elevated necrosis of the tumor because of the deficient supply of nutrients such as L-19 constructs. Such amount of direction is not commensurate in scope with the claimed invention.

(D) The existence of working examples.

On page 37 of the specification the only specific compounds disclosed are EDB-fibronectin and combrestatin A4 prodrugs.

(E) The quantity of experimentation needed to make or use the invention based on the content of the disclosure.

Because there is no way to predict a priori which other substance will be effective in triggering enhanced cell death and necrosis, it would take an enormous amount of trial and error test various substances for their ability to trigger enhanced cell death and necrosis.

Claim 28 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Improper Markush group is set forth in claim 28 in that EDF-fibronectin and a combrestatin A-4 prodrug are L-19 constructs.

Applicant's arguments filed December 5, 2007 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
